Q.54 (SKIP IF VOTING REPUBLICAN)<sup>3</sup> As you may have seen, the federal government shutdown came to an end after eight Democratic Senators struck a deal with Senate Republicans to advance spending bills to reopen the government. The deal included rehiring federal workers fired during the shutdown and the promise of a vote in December to extend expiring tax credits for people getting health coverage through the Affordable Care Act. Which of the following statements is closer to your view?

| This was a good compromise by those Democratic Senators to reopen the government, ensure federal workers get paid, provide food assistance to those in need and end the air traffic slowdowns and flight cancellations around the country..... | 44       | 62        | 45        | 44       |
| This was a bad deal that undermined the whole reason for the shutdown. These Democratic Senators caved to Republicans without getting any relief for Americans about to be hit with massive health care premium increases. ....                | 41       | 18        | 35        | 38       |
